

Photo Tips from Michael McKinney

I use a background and box lights but thought these two items are inexpensive, portable, and a great way to start. The best examples I found, on Amazon of course, are the links. Photos included show my items. The camera holder looks different on the link but the tripod legs are the same.

Befunky has a free edition that works for most desired effects. Of course, for more tricky maneuvers, upgrades are available at $5/month if a yearly subscription.
